Has anyone received the cumulative on Patch Tuesday, 10/13, for 10941 version 2004, then upgraded to 19042, version 20H2, and then received this cumulative again stating it was for version 20H2? Sorry for that long run-on sentence. A pic may help. This is from my Update History under Windows Update. What I described is exactly what happened to me.

Faith said: Are you sure about it being completely up to date? I was surprised to see the drivers on offer had newer versions than what I already had installed, and this is on a PC that I thought was fully up to date also. I used Microsoft Update Catalogue to check. These are system drivers that has already been detect
